Here And There News Collected At Random

Members of the American history classes of the Gettysburg high school, who toured the battlefield on Thursday afternoon drew words of high praise from the battlefield guides who accompanied the buses on the tour.

One of them said today that he had guided many groups of school students over the field, and had never seen as much interest displayed, such close attention given to the guides and the points of interest, and as much knowledge shown of the history of the Civil war and related events.

The pupils, in charge of Miss N. Louise Ramer and J. Melchior Sheeds, visited the Cyclorama and the National museum in addition to touring the battlefield.

"They were the best behaved pupils I have ever seen," the guide, who said he wanted to remain anonymous, declared.

Speaking of schools, we have had several complaints from parents of children at the High street school, that the school grounds need attention. They declare that the loose gravel on the grounds has resulted in a number of bruises for the youngsters, especially the first graders. They feel that the grounds should be conditioned similar to the playing area at the Meade school.

It is said that the American-made watch, if properly serviced, will measure time so accurately that it doesn't vary more than 30 seconds a week. In order of numbers, the most crimes were committed by persons 21, 22, 23 and 24 years of age. These figures were revealed in 57,073 fingerprint arrest records received by the FBI.

A brush fire that got out of hand burned over three acres of woodland between Fairfield and the Indian Trail Inn late Friday afternoon and led fire wardens to express the fear that this summer—if the present dry weather continues—may be the worst in years as far as forests fire danger goes.

Leroy Sheads, Fairfield fire warden, reported the woods as "extremely dry for this season of the year" in commenting on the conflagration.

About 50 men took part in putting out the fire, with Fire Warden Nagle at Fountaineau called to give assistance with his group of men in stamping out the flames.

New York, April 30 (AP)—The plan
to insert a giveaway in NBC's Sunday evening schedule in an effort to win back Hooper attention still is being given consideration. The latest indication is that a show is just about set.

The program proposed would have a jackpot starting at $35,000, either in merchandise or cash. CBS recently upped the merchandise minimum of its Saturday night Sing
It Again to $25,000, plus a $25,000
cash award.

Puzzlers in the NBC series would deal with movie personalities. The method to be used to reach contestants has not been entirely worked out, but the time is expected to be 6:30 p. m. for an hour, probably starting within a month. This would put the program in competition with both Ozzie and Harriet and Jack
Benny as they wind up the season,
and possibly give it a chance to become well-established in the summer
period.

Littlestown REV. SMITH IS DINNER SPEAKER

A sportsman is a person that has respect for the man who follows him, he doesn't take all that he can, the Rev. Nevil E. Smith, pastor of Emmanuel Reformed church, Hanover, told 83 members of the Littlestown Fish and Game Association at their 13th annual banquet Wednesday evening in the social hall of Redeemer's Reformed church. Toastmaster for the occasion was the president of the association, Dr. Joseph R. Riden.

The invocation was offered by the Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of the host church. Following a roast chicken dinner, Charles W. Weikert, chairman of the banquet committee introduced the speaker.

After Rev. Smith's address two reels of motion pictures were shown by Dewey Furlow. These pictures were shown through the courtesy of the Field and Stream Publishing company. One reel dealt with Canadian smallmouth bass and the other reel with speckled trout. Melvin Wehler was the winner of the drawing for the evening.

The committee that arranged for this banquet in addition to the chairman consisted of Dr. Richard M. Phreaner, Bernard Dillman, Edward Lester, Harry Streig, Henry Storm, Harold Sparver, William Wherley, Donald W. Fesser and Kenneth Olinger.

The next meeting will be held Wednesday, May 25, with the place to be announced later. Refreshment committee for the May meeting includes Bernard Selby, Robert Spangler and Wilbur Snyder.

Meeting on the ball diamond, there will be several selections by the Littlestown high school band under the direction of Paul Harner. The band followed by the Littlestown ball clubs will march to the flag-pole on the playground, at which time the American flag and pennants held by the local club will be raised.

Following this the home season will be officially opened when Burgess Charles R. Mehring will toss out the first ball.

This program is in charge of the advertising committee consisting of J. Arthur Boyd and Harry W. Badgers. Clarence L. Schwartz, Sr., is president of the local baseball club; Leon H. Gage, vice president; Bernard Weaver, business manager; assistant business manager, James Reindollar; playing manager, Marvin "Babe" Breighner, assistant playing manager, William Mehring and Warren Wisotzkey.

Construction was started last week on a one and a half story, Cape Cod brick bungalow with asbestos roof for Mr. and Mrs. Cloy I. Crouse, on the north side of East King street, near Walnut. The overall dimensions of the bungalow are 42 feet, 4 inches by 29 feet, 6 inches. It is being erected by I. H. Crouse and Sons, contractors, of which firm Mr. Crouse is a partner. WARRIORS LACE ST. FRANCIS 9 FOR 2ND WIN

Collecting 15 safeties off the offerings of three St. Francis Prep school hurlers, the Gettysburg high school baseball team won its second game in as many starts here Friday afternoon by a 13-3 score.

Ronnie Kump, Maroon hurling ace, repeated his performance against Delone on April 12 by whiffing 18 batsmen to make it 36 for 14 innings. He allowed but two hits, both of which came in the fourth.

Coach Shoemaker's lads scored in every frame but the sixth, a five-run outburst in the third inning definitely sewing up the verdict.

Today the Warriors meet Westminster high on the local field at 2:30 o'clock. Next Tuesday Hanover will be met on the latter's field in the opening South Penn league game.

Seek Support For New Labor Measure

Washington, April 30 (AP)—Worried administration Democrats buckled down today to the job of saving their labor bill from defeat in the House.

They took a severe beating yesterday. But they had three days more to round up votes against a substitute bill supported by a strong, confident House bloc of Republicans and Southern Democrats.

After winding up their fourth stormy day of labor debate, leaders of both parties agreed to a truce until Tuesday. The House will take up other business Monday.

On the record, both sides still predicted victory.

BULLETS HAND MOUNTAINEERS 13-3 SETBACK

A six-run scoring spurge in the third inning, featured by a home-run by Bill Atherholt with two runners aboard, high-lighted the 13-3 victory scored by the Gettysburg college baseball team over Mt. St. Mary's here Friday afternoon.

The teams were deadlocked at 1-1 when the Bullets tallied half a dozen times in the third to clinch their third victory in five starts.

Tony Cervino opened the third frame with a single and then stole second base. He scored on Novak's single. Ditty Jones doubled and both runners romped home on Atherholt's long drive to left center. Hummel walked and Huntzinger was out on a sacrifice. Kirker pounded out a triple and Smith, Mt. St. Mary's hurler, was lifted in favor of Harvel.

Kirker later scored on a passed ball. The Bullets kept pecking away to add to their total aided somewhat by loose fielding by the Mountaineers.

Ronnie Fitzkee, who started for the Plankmen, yielded a pair of hits and two bases on balls in the sixth and was replaced by Lefty Buehler who pitched effective relief ball.

Today the Bullets tangle with Muhlenberg at Allentown.

BULLETS HAND MOUNTAINEERS 13-3 SETBACK

A six-run scoring spurge in the third inning, featured by a home-run by Bill Atherholt with two runners aboard, high-lighted the 13-3 victory scored by the Gettysburg college baseball team over Mt. St. Mary's here Friday afternoon.

The teams were deadlocked at 1-1 all when the Bullets tallied half a dozen-times in the third to clinch their third victory in five starts.

Tony Cervino opened the third frame with a single and then stole second base. He scored on Novak's single. Ditty Jones doubled and both runners romped home on Atherholt's long drive to left center. Hummel walked and Huntzinger was out on a sacrifice. Kirker pounced out a triple and Smith, Mt. St. Mary's hurler, was lifted in favor of Harvel.

Kirker later scored on a passed ball. The Bullets kept pecking away to add to their total aided somewhat by loose fielding by the Mountaineers.

Ronnie Fitzkee, who started for the Plankmen, yielded a pair of hits and two bases on balls in the sixth and was replaced by Lefty Buehler who pitched effective relief ball.

Today the Bullets tangle with Muhlenberg at Allentown. The box scores:

THE IMAGINATION

I wonder where all our joys, our comforts, and our individual successes would be did we not have a mind that could imagine? It can both see and hear—and all in utter silence. It is one of the earliest faculties to function. The child has it, as well as the mature.

In our imagination we see ourselves as we wish that we might be. More vividly than any pictured representation we see our greatest desires come true. It's this imagination of ours that initiates every achievement. The whole world becomes a drama of movement to us, in which we see ourselves playing an important part.

It is the imagination that looks out upon nature, seeing there the organized life of music, color, and happy livelihood. The architect looks beyond his drawings and plans to the completed structure. The novelist looks upon his created characters as genuine companions, and often as friends. They are real to him, because his imagination makes them so. And so vividly do some of these characters live that we look upon them as real, like Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes or John Buchan's Richard Hannay.

It is this imagination of ours that keeps us alive and active. The greater the imagination the greater is the achievement. Without it we stand still.

We owe to our pioneers and inventors a debt that we can never fully pay. Anything that stimulates the imagination to some creative effort is an investment in growth and progress. People who are satisfied with their lot lack this great power of the imagination, which leads so many to the heights.

The sight of the mind's eye is limitless! Its vision is worldwide. There can be no worthwhile gain in life without imagination. Imagination creates it. The poorest in a material way can sit in his humble spot and see the world through the eyes of another. I am now traveling with Charles M. Doughty through his great book "Arabia Deserta!" Said John Muir: "The power of the imagination makes us infinite."

SUPPOSE

Suppose the good Lord told you on the day before your birth:

"For a very special purpose I am sending you to earth.

There's a place that will be vacant, with a task some one should do.

You may think it unimportant, but I'm giving it to you."

Would you scorn the chance for service in the way of many a man

Or accept it with the promise: "I will do the best I can."

Suppose God gave instructions for this life before you came

And said: "Throughout your mission you will wear your father's name.

As his son down there you'll labor, though my children both you'll be.

You can serve your earthly father best by truly serving Me."

If you knew the good Lord's purpose and His plan you understood,

With the task that you'd been given would you do the best you could?

Well, my boy, He didn't bind you, but to choose He left you free.

And the way you are doing, whatever it may be,

Means a place the good Lord wanted some one here on earth to fill.

It may call for greater courage than the tasks requiring skill.

It is service that is needed: work for which your life began.

By the Lord you're being trusted just to do the best you can.

Drivers who are habitually on edge when at the wheel seldom have a dull moment.

Noise Out of Style

This year many a motorist will save himself the annoyance of a noisy motor because of being more interested in those hard working parts known as valve lifters. Too often it has been the habit to condemn the valves themselves or their springs when all of the trouble originated in the lifters. This season several more makers of engines have hydraulic lifters which check noise by maintaining zero clearance whether the motor is hot or cold. One of the 1949 motors features a type of tappet that encourages valves to rotate, this being effective in preventing high spots on the tappet face. Something owners of conventional tappets can do is to use enough valve oil to check any stickage that might cause lifters to bind.

Rings Not Everything

It's all very well to replace piston rings when this is the only solution, but too often oil loss is due to such simple things as a loose spark plug gasket. Something that is almost never considered in oil loss is a clogged oil inlet screen.

Most common cause of oil loss during engine operation, aside from bad rings, is excessive crankcase pressure caused by clogged vents. Oil actually will go out the vents or even out the oil filler pipe if the internal pressure is high enough.

New Book on Outboards

Those of you who have found it smart to carry an outboard motor in the luggage compartment, in readiness for outdoor sport whenever a lake and rowboat came into view, should be keenly interested in Robert J. Whittier's new volume "The Outboard Motor and Boat Book" which I have just seen in proof form. It tells you how to mount the outboard, how to avoid those starting delays, how to mix and handle the fuel and many other things that will be as important to the sportsman as the proper care of the car that helps him reach vacation objectives. Whittier offers a complete trouble shooting section, and discusses such interesting things as cavitation which is the fancy name for what happens when air finds its way into the area swept by the propeller. Voyager Press of Concord, Massachusetts, is publishing this interesting volume, at $2.00 each. Whittier has established himself as an expert in the boat field with emphasis on that outboard motor which so many car owners find indispensable.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"How you use the oil in the engine has everything to do with the mileage you will get from it. Round-town driving is always deceptive because the crankcase loads up with diluent and what registers as oil may be something that ought to be drained off pronto. Very helpful is an annual cleaning of the oil pan. Where engines have worn rings the mere fact that oil burns off faster doesn't mean that the engine is being favored with cleaner oil. Sludge probably is forming at a much higher rate."

No Room for Doubt

One thing about universal joints is that they certainly show up when worn, leaving no question as to what is wrong. First, there is the familiar clicking noise when starting the car either ahead or rearward. It is not a sharp snap (caused by a loose rear wheel) but the sort of thing you would expect when worn parts are started into action. If you drive past a stone wall and vary the car's speed, (when traveling slowly in high) worn universals will show up by an echoed sound of rattling dishes.

Another point to remember about universals is that if they need grease you will often hear a sharp squeak when accelerating from low speeds.

Three to Remember

I hadn't heard of this one in a long time, but a little beeswax rubbed on the windshield wiper blades will make them do a better job.

If you are one of many who use special oils in with the gasoline as a means of obtaining better top cylinder lubrication don't be alarmed if the carburetor looks oily. There is always a certain amount of leakage around the float bowl, and the oil that works out along with it doesn't evaporate.

In a number of cases the humming of motors, usually attributed to bad timing gears, has been traced to loose mufflers.

There's no need to wonder if the be Allen L. Oliver, of Cape Girardeau, Missouri, a member of the board of directors for Rotary International.

Personal Mention: A dinner meeting of the Soroptimist club was held Tuesday evening at the Blue Parrot tea room. Included on the program were musical readings by Gloria Ecker, Sara Spangler and Elizabeth Daley and piano selections by Mary Louise Spangler and Ruth Martin. Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Nellie Buehl, Mrs. Miriam Daley and Miss Sara Rodgers.

Mrs. J. L. Barton, Broadway, will leave Tuesday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, New York city.

Mrs. John D. Keith and daughter, Miss Helen, will return Monday evening from a visit to Stanton and other points in central Virginia.

one headlight approaching is the mate of a dead one on a car, or is the single light of a motorcycle. A motorcycle light usually bobs up and down.

Keep in mind that the situation just beyond the range of your car's lights may be just as much of a mystery as what's around a sharp curve.

Lacking a backing light it may help you get out of a driveway to hold your foot down far enough on the brake pedal to flash the stop-light.

Gas mileage in Toboggan

Once again the market is flooded with gas savers and the motoring public is crying out for more mileage. Actually all the saver gadgets do is lean out the mixture. That would be all right were it not for the main reason for low gas mileage—the increase in highway speed. At speed an engine needs a richer mixture to prevent valve burning and to give the engine the extra lift it needs to prevent overworking. Speed alone drags down gas mileage in a regular toboggan slide. And with a lean mixture you run the risk of motor trouble besides.

Saved a Flat

A friend of mine who regularly uses double inner tubes as a precaution against a blowout recently had an experience which paid nice dividends from his investment in the more expensive tubes. At winter's end he was heading for home when a large section of a special ice-gripping winter tread came off one of the rear tires. A little further along another section let loose. Still he was able to keep going, running right on bare carcass. With ordinary tubes the disintegrating shoe would not have been able to hold so heavy a car for the distance my friend had to travel to a garage.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. Even though I have over-inflated the front tires and have had the front end well greased, I still find it difficult to steer for parking. What next? H. L. R.

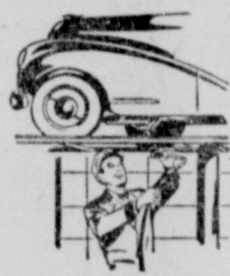

A. I think you will find that the front end is set for excessive caster. Q. When I drive my car I am constantly troubled with severe ping-pong. I get this even around town and of course on hills. When a mechanic drives the car it seems to run quietly. I don't understand why there should be any difference. H. E. Jr.

A. Your mechanic apparently doesn't "crowd" the motor with gas. Impatience brings on a lot of unnecessary ping-pong.

Q. There's a bad growl in the rear end of my car. Please don't tell me that I'm hearing a rough front tire because I have checked this carefully. K. McB.

A. Yes, you're in for something more serious. This growl is in the differential. It may be due to in-

MAKE PROGRESS IN BERLIN TALKS

New York, April 30 (AP)—Russia and the Western powers appeared today to be advancing slowly toward an agreement on lifting the Berlin blockade.

This was the view expressed cau-correct adjustment of the pinion and ring gears.

Q. Why is there roughness in my car? It is equipped with a fluid clutch which, in itself, ought to make for smoother operation. R. R. W.

A. You will find that this is due to a defective runner hub outer bearing in the fluid drive unit.

Q. I don't suppose you get many inquiries about mechanical brakes, but I wish you would be able to tell me why the brakes on my car won't take hold with a good bite. I have tried all kinds of adjustments and the lining is in good condition. D. S. L.

A. There still are plenty of cars with mechanical brakes. I think you will find excessive wear in the brake mechanism. This destroys the lever position and alignment. In other words, you are not getting sufficient benefit from the normal mechanical advantage of the setup.

Q. Why would the horns on my car lose their tone quality? I would say that they are loud enough. G. V. McN.

A. Check for corroded or worn contacts at the horn button. If there is no relay in the horn circuit I would certainly install one. With such a relay the horn circuit merely closes a more direct circuit from the starter-motor "hot" post to the horns. It is the same plan used for headlights.

Q. In checking the battery I find that one cell always needs much more water than the rest. There doesn't seem to be any leakage. How come? M. H.

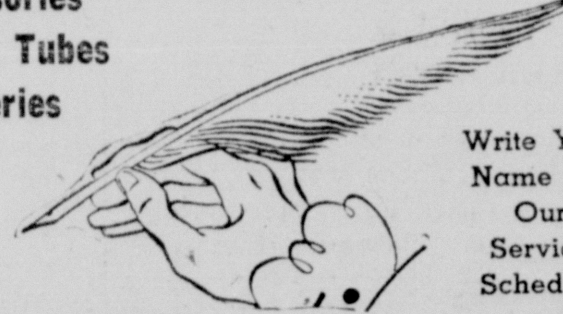

A. You will find that there are short-circuited plates in this particular cell. Don't be too surprised if you soon will need a new battery.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern street, West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

RED COLUMNS ROLL NEARER TO SHANGHAI

By TOM LAMBERT
Shanghai, April 30 (AP)—Communist columns today rolled to within 23 miles of Hangchow in an apparent move to knock out that anchor to the whole Nationalist position on the Shanghai front.

The newspaper Sin Wan Pao said government employees in Hangchow had been ordered to leave and that locally-organized militia took over police duties.

This might indicate the Nationalist soldiers had withdrawn from the coastal city, 121 rail miles southwest of Shanghai. There was nothing official to bear out this, however.

Heard Artillery Fire
The Shanghai garrison communiqué said that one Communist column had reached Tsching, 23 road miles north of Hangchow. Earlier the garrison said Nationalist troops had withdrawn from Wukang, 12 miles west of Tsching.

Sin Wan Pao reported artillery fire could be heard in Hangchow. The city was quiet and most shops were closed.

Communist radio boasted that the main battle raged 70 miles or so northwest of Hangchow, where it said seven government armies were trapped and being "annihilated." This would mean more than 140,000 Nationalists, or nearly one-third of the total force assigned to defend the now-punctured Nanking-Hangchow triangle.

(There was little to indicate the Nationalists were putting up much resistance on the Hangchow front, although previously strong government forces were reported moving up to block the Red advance.)

Evacuate Foreigners

Five hundred Red raiders struck into the rice district of Changshu, 55 road miles northwest of Shanghai. It was still too early to tell whether this represented a move down the Yangtze's south bank to seal off Shanghai from the sea.

The departure of Chinese and foreigners from Shanghai sped on without letup. American and Chinese planes took off with mostly capacity loads.

The U. S. liner Gordon will dock in Shanghai Sunday to take on more than 1,000 evacuees. There will be 700 Chinese, 100 Americans and 200 other foreigners.

The U. S. Navy withdrew the last of its fighting craft from the Whangpoo in the heart of Shanghai. All Navy ships are now anchored at Woosung at the mouth of the Yangtze.

SUPPLY PASTOR HELD IN DEATH OF YOUNG WIFE

Rochester, N. Y., April 30 (AP)—While the bullet-pierced body of Mrs. Jean Gareis Hetenyi lay unidentified in the Rochester morgue, a letter from her was postmarked in Buffalo and sent to Oakland, Calif.

Oakland police sought today to identify the handwriting on the envelope, which they said was different from that in the letter.

Meanwhile, the Rev. George P. Hetenyi, 40, charged with murdering his wife, consented to removal of her body from the morgue to a Rochester funeral home.

Hetenyi, who has served as a supply pastor in western New York Episcopal churches but who was booked at the jail as a Catholic, asked that an Episcopal clergyman officiate at funeral services Monday. Burial will be in Rochester.

Find Rubber Gloves

Sheriff's men, dragging the Genesee river for the gun used in the slaying and other clues, fished out yesterday a water-soaked pasteboard box containing a new pair of rubber gloves. The box was about 50 feet downstream from the place where the 25-year-old woman's body was discovered.

The body was found a week ago, caught in driftwood at nearby Brighton.

City Chemist John A. Temmerman decided last night that red-dish blotches on a highway guard cable near the spot were not blood.

The letter from Mrs. Hetenyi, apparently written at the Hetenyi home in Amherst, Buffalo suburb, reached her parents' house Thursday. It was postmarked 10 p. m., Saturday. Police said it contained "minor family news."

"LIPPY" SILENT ON SUSPENSION

New York, April 30 (AP)—"The Lip" was silent today as he began the first full day of his second suspension from baseball in three years. Leo Durocher, the balding, pug-nosed manager of the New York Giants, was under orders from his boss, Horace Stoneham, to keep still.

He will get his chance to talk next Tuesday when he appears before Commissioner A. B. Chandler in Cincinnati. Chandler suspended him yesterday following a brief fracas Thursday with a Brooklyn fan at the polo grounds.

The fan, 22-year-old Fred Berger of Brooklyn, accused Durocher of punching and kicking him after a 15-2 rout of the Giants by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Durocher, known for his hot temper, said he had no choice but to back Berger and to punch him. He said he was not trying to hurt him, but to teach him a lesson.

Durocher, who has been suspended from baseball in the past, was fined $5,000 and suspended for 30 days. He is expected to return to the Giants in May.

CLAIMS WOMAN SCANNED SECRET REPORTS BY FBI

Washington, April 30 (AP)—Testimony that Judith Coplon looked at secret FBI reports after she had been told not to brought to a close the first week of her espionage trial.

The testimony was given late yesterday by Mrs. Ruth M. Rosson, an attorney in the Justice Department's internal security section. Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves then adjourned the trial until Monday.

Mrs. Rosson said she went to work in the section February 7. Shortly thereafter, she testified, Miss Coplon came into her office and said she would like to look over internal security reports she had in two file baskets.

"She looked at them and she took some of them back to her office," Mrs. Rosson said.

A day or so later, she went on, Miss Coplon returned and asked for any reports relating to foreign embassies, legations and consulates, especially reports marked "R," for Russian.

Had 50, 60 Reports
"Did you send them to her?" asked Government Prosecutor Raymond P. Wherry.

"I did," the witness replied.

She estimated that Miss Coplon got 50 or 60 such reports.

Earlier, Miss Coplon's former boss, William E. Foley, testified that he told the defendant late in January or the first of February that she was to stop doing any work in connection with internal security.

Foley also testified that Miss Coplon asked three times to see a "top secret" FBI report "about certain Russian agents in the United States."

The government claims that a statement telling of Miss Coplon's failure to get this report was found in her pocketbook when she was arrested in New York March 4 along with Valentine A. Gubitchev, a Russian.

Nicholas Antico was convicted last month of second degree murder in the shooting of 75-year-old William Moore. Antico, 37, had pleaded innocent to a general charge of murder in the slaying last November 5.

NEW RECORDS SET AT RELAYS

Philadelphia, April 30 (AP)—The 55-year old history book of the University of Pennsylvania relays today listed seven new champions and two meet records. The relay carnival standards fell yesterday at the opening of the two-day competition to the flying feet of Charles Moore of Cornell and the throwing arm of Yale's Vic Frank.

Moore, meeting a high class field of timber toppers, clipped a full second off the 400-meter hurdles record as he skimmed over the obstacles in 52.1 seconds. The old mark of 53.1 was written in the books by Pennsylvania's Jeffrey Kirk in 1947.

Frank, repeating his triumph of last year, tossed the discus 170 ft. 7½ in. to erase the old record of 167 ft. 10½ in. hung up by Archie Harris of Indiana in 1941.

James Gebres joined with Horace Ashenfelter in giving Penn State two individual titles. Gebres won the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.4. Ashenfelter applied the pressure on the last lap and finished 30 yards in front of Samuel McGill, North Carolina, in the two-mile run. The Nittany Lion runner was clocked in 9:21.5.

James Fuchs, third in the shot put at the Olympics, won his specialty with a mighty heave of 55 ft. 10½ in. to give the Eli of Yale two individual titles. Wayne's speedy quartet took the quarter-mile baton event in 4:17. Syracuse, with Neil Pratt running a 4:12 anchor mile, won the distance medley with a 10:08.1.

Mother Dies With Her Blind Baby

New York, April 30 (AP)—A shadow fell over the life of Mrs. Alice McGeough, 36, when her youngest child, Allen, was born blind.

Yesterday—three years later—she and the boy were found dead in a gas-filled cellar of their Queens home. Her arms still hugged his body.

Another note said: "I'm at the end of my rope. I know you will understand why I can't leave Duke."

"Duke" was the family's pet name for the blind child.

Johnson filed claim in court for ownership, under squatters' rights, of the house of Olaf Olsen, which he said he had occupied rent-free since August, 1939. He said Olsen had disappeared — but the court located him. Olsen filed counter-claim yesterday for 128 months' back rent.

New York, April 30 (AP)—The plan
to insert a giveaway in NBC's Sunday evening schedule in an effort to win back Hooper attention still is being given consideration. The latest indication is that a show is just about set.

The program proposed would have
a jackpot starting at $35,000, either
in merchandise or cash. CBS recently upped the merchandise minimum of its Saturday night Sing
It Again to $25,000, plus a $25,000
cash award.

Puzzlers in the NBC series would deal with movie personalities. The method to be used to reach contestants has not been entirely worked out, but the time is expected to be 6:30 p. m. for an hour, probably starting within a month. This would put the program in competition with
both Ozzie and Harriet and Jack
Benny as they wind up the season,
and possibly give it a chance to become well-established in the summer
period.
